

CEU's on the Web

Check to see if any CEU's are offered free thru a grant or sponsorship of a Pharmaceutical company, some may be offered for a fee.

Check with the list at NCBDE to see if the organization offering the CEU program is approved for CEU's that can be used for CDE re-certification.

Log on to the AADE website (<http://www.diabeteseducator.org/>), use the Continuing Education button and review offerings under Preview

American Diabetes Association E-News for Health Professionals, news@diabetes.org,
Subscribe to this electronic newsletter and review CEU's of interest.

American Dietetic Association
www.eatright.org, log on with RD number, and then go to "Log on and Learn".

Medscape from WebMD, Nurses CE Center
<http://www.medscape.com/cmecenterdirectory/nurses>

Medscape Diabetes and Endocrinology [Medscape_Endo@mp.medscape.com]
<http://www.medscape.com/diabetes-endocrinology-home>

National Diabetes Education Initiative
<http://www.ndei.org>

The National Campaign to Control Hypertension, sponsored by Thomson Professional Postgraduate Services, is supported by an unrestricted educational grant from Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corporation.
<http://controlhypertension.org/>

Professional Resources In Management Education, Inc. (Prime)
<http://www.primeinc.org/>

CE City
<http://www.cecity.com/>

National Lipid Education Council
<http://www.lipidhealth.org/>

If you have additional sites you would like to share with the SACDE membership, please e-mail info@sacde.org.

This is only part of an ever-growing and changing list of CEU opportunities on the web.
Listing here does not mean endorsement by SACDE

